

Looking ahead to a fruitful new year

VOLUNTEERS from the Teme Valley Environment Group have just started work on their own allotment.

The are joining other allotment tenants in Knighton to help cut down the amount of food miles. The volunteers have quite a task ahead of them as the allotment is totally covered in grass and doesn't appear to have been used for several years.

One of their first jobs was to secure old pallets to make a compost heap and clear an area at the bottom of the patch for a shed they have been given. Hopefully next year they will be growing a wide variety of vegetable, some of which will be sold at the Knighton farmers and craft market. For more information contact 01547 528833.

●Picture: Some of the volunteers who have started work on the allotment – Ed Pennington-Ridge, Sheila Clarke, Yvie George, Will O'Leary, Aled George, Bernard Jefferies, John Roberts and Adrian Taylor.

Picture by: Jane Bywater

